

Subject	Identifying Highly Able Pupils
Drama	Pupils who are highly able in drama are likely to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • be able to speak confidently on a given subject; • be able to work with voice in a manner relevant to drama; • be able to seek the opinions of others when engaged in practical group work; • be able to seek the opinions of others in discussion; • be able to work co-operatively in groups and understand the meaning of team work; • understand the importance of communication; • take an active role in the learning process; • understand drama techniques and use them in planning their work; • explore issues in their environment and experience and understand their relevance to drama; • be able to use the language of drama in written work. • be able to demonstrate a strong awareness of audience in performance and also in the content of their practical work;